HARLAN MURDER.

John M. Oliver Defends His Cousin's Honor.

Hattie Woolsteen Witnessed the Shooting, but Took No Part.

How Her Lover Was Shot Down by Her Side Near the Barn.

Why Harlan Borrowed a Pistol—The Only Correct Account of the Shooting Ever Published—Hundreds of New-Made Friends Willing to Assist Hattie.

"Murder will out." The mystery is at last cleared up. THE TIMES is this morning able to furnish its readers a complete solution of the now celebrated Harlan mystery. The question, "Who killed Harlan?" has for several days not only agitated the minds of the public at large, but the shrewdest detectives in this section of the State have been so nonplussed that little actual work in the way of fastening the crime upon the guilty parties has been done. True, the girl made supposed confessions, but these were not only contradictory but improbable, and were not believed by the police. The actual murderer, and the one who fired the fatal shot, was John M. Oliver of Peoria county, Ill., a relative of the girl Hattie Woolsteen, who left his rural home about a month ago and came to this city for the express purpose of seeing her wrongs righted by Harlan.

No one seemed to know whence he came and why he was here. He kept his own counsel and had no intimate friends. No one knew where his rooms were, and his meals were taken at the different restaurants about the city. He made weekly trips to a certain house on Fort street where the Woolsteen girls had rooms, and when these visits were made, it was always under the cover of darkness. He would visit them about 9 o'clock in the evening and generally stayed about an hour. To the landlady, the girl Minnie, stated that he was her fiancé and that they were shortly to be married. He never worked and always seemed to have plenty of money. He was wont on occasions, to visit the Turf Club and other sporting establishments, where he would indulge his tastes in faro and other games of chance. He was not a hard drinker. Whether he won or lost there was the same quiet self-possession about him which is only displayed by experienced sports. This personage is the mysterious accomplice in the murder, the man who fired the fatal shot which laid Harlan in the dust and avenged the wrongs suffered by a tender woman. She has tried to screen him by inculpating herself, she has tried to take her life, and by this act destroy all of the evidence. Oliver is a prosperous farmer of Peoria county, Ill., and first met Harlan upon the latter's visit to the city of Peoria about two years ago. At that time Harlan was courting Hattie, and painted in glowing colors, Los Angeles and the Pacific Coast, to the girl and her relatives. He promised to send for her as soon as he could get settled, and corresponded regularly with her until about six months ago, when all letters from him ceased. The girl, who was infatuated with Harlan, prevailed upon her sister to make a trip to the Coast with her, and they came to this city together. They had considerable money and immediately went to private lodgings. Harlan was seen by Hattie, and promised to marry her as soon as his affairs were in a condition enabling him to do so. This seemed to satisfy her for the time being. Her funds had by this time become very low, and she being of a proud disposition, she did not choose to apply to her relatives for money, neither did she inform Harlan of her circumstances. She and her sister both secured situations with private families in this city, where their conduct was above reproach. Harlan, as soon as he learned of their new plans, reproached Hattie severely for not applying to him for assistance. She retorted that she would have been only too happy to throw herself upon his support if he would only have given her the opportunity; she did not want his money, she wanted his name. He prevailed upon her, however, to leave the family in whose service she was, and then placed her in the lodging-house on Fort street, from where she was arrested. She kept urging upon him to make her his wife, and he promised upon the one condition that she would surrender her honor to him. To this she absolutely refused, but one night after they had been to the play he took her to a resort of doubtful reputation, hired a private apartment and there drugged her and thus accomplished his vile purpose. Even this outrage did not change her sentiments toward him, and she urged all the more strongly upon him that the only reparation he could make her was marriage. He still demanded time and promised to do as she requested as soon as his affairs would allow him to take such a step. Then it was that she found he never would fulfill his promise and that he was already married. She and her sister consulted and it was decided to send for a male relative and have him try and bring matters to a crisis. John M. Oliver is the cousin who responded to Hattie's appeal. He left his farm in Illinois and came to the aid of his outraged relative. The first time that Harlan saw Oliver was when he encountered the two walking together on Fort street. Harlan was in the company of one of his gambling friends, to whom he was boasting of his conquest, when he saw the stranger with the woman who cost him his life. He remarked:

"I never thought that Hattie would go back on me." The next day he went to her rooms to see her, and ask who the stranger was. By chance Oliver was with her upon his arrival, and Harlan was introduced to the man who subsequently took his life. The introduction over, Oliver told the seducer plainly that his conduct was not that of a gentleman. That he had acted shamefully, and Hattie's family felt the disgrace keenly. He asked what Harlan's intentions were toward repairing the great wrong he had done the girl. Harlan was very penitent. He promised both Oliver and the girl that he would procure a separation from his wife and would then marry Hattie. He did not, however, intend to keep his promise, as he boasted to several of his friends that he was no such sucker; he had accomplished what he wanted and had no further use for her. These facts came to Oliver's ears and he had another interview with Harlan, in which he told him plainly that if he did not fulfill his promise within three days he would kill him. This was the Monday before the murder. The allotted time had expired on Thursday, and on that day Harlan was at different saloons trying to borrow a revolver, which he had at last succeeded in doing. He had told the girl that if she would take a drive with him in the country alone he would give her his final answer. A buggy was procured and the two drove out toward Compton. They quarreled considerably on the way, he pleading for a release from his promise, and she stern and inflexible. He petitioned her for the s

Draft of contract of William McLean to construct and lay a sidewalk on Sixth-street Park. Read and approved.

Draft of contract of Sanford Johnson to grade and curb Eleventh street, from Pearl to Nevada street. Read and approved.

Draft of contract of Rose et al. to grade Union avenue. Read and approved.

A communication from the City Attorney asking that, in accordance with the statute, all the city railroads be obliged to grade their roads, was read and referred to Board of Public Works.

City Attorney Daly presented a lengthy opinion in reference to the communication from the Main Street and Agricultural Park Railroad Company, relating to the improvement of Main and Washington streets. In the opinion Mr. Daly says: "It is claimed in both communications that the franchise from the city is in the nature of a contract. I cannot concede this, particularly in the sense the company would have it understood. I am not convinced that the power of a municipality to the control of its streets, a power held in trust for the benefit of the public, can be surrendered or delegated by contract to private parties. Nor am I convinced that the power to the control of the streets, which is a continuing one, can be abridged or abrogated. But the portion of the franchise cited in the communication will not, in my judgment, bear the construction the company would give; and would it bear such construction the city is by the provisions of section 507 of the Authorizing Act estopped from alienating or impairing "its right to grade, pave, macadamize, or otherwise improve, alter or repair the streets or highways of the city." [Here is cited the provision.] This is not to be construed as a contract with the city that the company shall do its own paving when paving is ordered by the city, but rather a condition enjoined to pave the entire route of the track when the road is constructed, and thereafter to keep it in repair without reference to grading, etc., of the street over which they may run. . . . I am convinced that the Council has failed to perform its duty of enforcing a compliance, and that the company has failed to perform one of the conditions on which its franchise rests. . . . I would suggest, then, that your honorable body have prepared plans and specifications and order paved that portion of all streets occupied by street railways, as provided by law and the conditions of the franchise. There are many reasons why this should be done at the present time, but this one is sufficient: It is the law.

An invitation from the Consumers' Gas-light, Heat and Power Company, asking that the Council visit their offices, was accepted.

A communication in relation to laying sidewalk and grading Main street from Ninth to Washington street, as per plans of City Surveyor, was adopted.

Notice of intention to establish grades of certain streets. Read and adopted.

The Clerk was instructed to advertise for two weeks more for school bonds.

Mr. Jones moved the reconsideration of the ordinance as to Mayor's clerk which was lost at last meeting.

It was resolved that the office be created, the salary $100 per month, the existence of the office to continue during the pleasure of the Council, and not longer than five months. The object of the office is for the purpose of giving information to visitors as to accommodations, etc.

A recess was taken that the Clerk be allowed time to get the original ordinance. Upon reconvening, the paper was read. Mr. Frankenfield asked if the paper read was the original. He was answered that it was not. From this point considerable discussion was had, the ayes and noes being taken on the question, reconsideration, amendments, etc. Considerable feeling was shown in the arguments. Mr. Jones, who moved the reconsideration of the question first, objected to the members of the Council being allowed to speak so many times on the subject. After it was adopted Mr. Kuhrts arose and said that although he was in favor of the ordinance, and had voted affirmatively, he wished to withdraw his vote that it might be reconsidered at the next meeting, as he in the meantime, wished to find out what action the Board of Supervisors would take in the matter. President Breed during the argument that followed, told Mr. Kuhrts to sit down, emphasizing his edict by several loud taps with the gavel. "I will not, sir," said Mr. Kuhrts, very excitedly. The Sergeant at Arms walked to the gate and it looked warmish somewhat, when Mr. Kuhrts grabbed up his hat and walked out, followed by Mr. Frankenfield.

It was resolved that the following streets be graded: Ward street, Edgeware road, Leonard street, Arnold street, Pine street, Emerald street, College Hill avenue, Montague avenue, Figuron street, Tenth street and Loma Drive.

Bids were received for building the underpinning of the City Hall, and were referred to the Building Committee.

Petitions referred to respective committee. Adjourned.

The Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court of California resumed its session yesterday. In the matter of Guoin vs. Donahoo it was ordered that the appeal in the case be dismissed. The case of Baird vs. the Board of Supervisors of Tulare County was ordered to be submitted upon briefs on file. The cause of Bancroft vs. Cosby was disposed of in like manner. The appellant in the cause of Hawn vs. the 76 Land and Water Company was allowed twenty days in which to file briefs. In the matter of Hughes vs. Wheeler it was ordered that the appellant be allowed thirty days in which to file briefs. The appeal in the case of Walker vs. Walker was dismissed. The case of Chuck vs. Garrison was argued at great length by counsel on both sides, and respondent was allowed ten days in which to file briefs, and appellant twenty days in which to answer. The cause of Edwards vs. the County of Fresno was continued for the term. The court then adjourned to reconvene at 10 o'clock today.

A PECULIAR CASE.

A Conductor Falls in a Fit and Does Not Recover.

Conductor W. G. Davis, who has a run into this city on the Santa Fé Railroad, was found night before last in the company's depot in an insensible condition. He had just left his train, and was on his way up town to his hotel. He is from San Bernardino, and the accident is from a concussion of the brain which he suffered years ago. He was yesterday removed to the St. Charles Hotel, and Dr. McCarthy, who is attending upon him, states that there is but little hope for his recovery. He is now in the new Protestant Hospital, and still unconscious.

Visiting the Jail.

Yesterday was a busy day at the County Jail. Besides being one of the regular visiting days it was also ex-Jailer Mannon's moving day. Several of the prisoners had lady visitors yesterday. Ed Myers, the safe carrier, Dan Monroe, the burglar, and Morrison, the embezzler, had their wives in attendance upon them, and others of the prisoners were closeted with friends and attorneys.

Unless You Want to Buy, Don't Read This.

Being directly interested in the building of a standard gauge railroad from Los Angeles along the foothills to Santa Monica, places us in position to offer some gilt-edged bargains at various points along the route. We are sole agents for the sale of lots in Prospect Hill subdivision, in the Lick Tract, where grading has already begun and the building of a $75,000 hotel, "The Winchester," will be pushed to completion as rapidly as men and material can do it. This is the finest and most beautiful subdivision in the county, and only fifteen minutes' ride from Spring street. The cars will be running to this subdivision by October 20th, and a fine depot will be built immediately. Strangers and tourists are especially invited to call at our office and inspect the plans for the hotel; also maps of subdivisions. We have also several other tracts or subdivisions on the line of railroad and boulevard, which we will be pleased to show our customers at any time. Sunset boulevard, as well as the Foothills Railroad, runs through or near all these tracts, and we can accommodate you with large or small lots or acre tracts on which large profits may be realized. Being interested in the railroad, we can show you just where the depot buildings and sidings will be, so you will know just where to select lots either for business or residence purposes. Our carriage is always ready, and we will take pleasure in showing any one who desires to purchase, or to furnish any information in regard to the above properties. Strangers are particularly invited to make our office their headquarters while in the city, where any information in regard to real estate or railroad matters will be cheerfully given. We have some fine bargains in city property, houses and lots, in various parts of the city. Also a small hotel at The Palms, doing a fine business.

Court Record.

Clothcraft is for a story.

Quite an amusing occurrence took place in Justice Austin's court yesterday afternoon while the crowd of spectators were in waiting to hear the preliminary examination of Miss Woolsteen. The room was crowded from the door to the bar with a number of good business men, who "never have time to serve on a jury, because it would do them so much damage to be away from their business so long." It happened that there are two cases to be tried in that court in the near future, and as there seemed to be a lack of anything else to do while waiting to hear the report from the jail as to the ability of the Woolsteen girl to attend, Justice Austin thought it would be a fine opportunity to issue a venire for the two juries needed. He accordingly made out the necessary papers, and they were handed to Deputy Constable Roberts, who started out among the crowd to serve the summonses. Fearing the attendance might speedily melt away if no attempt were made to keep them, while Roberts served his papers Constable Smithewent to the door and took care no likely juror left until the venires were complete. The scheme worked like a charm, for in less than twenty minutes the papers had all been served, and forty-eight good men and true had been notified to be in attendance at the city court at the time mentioned by the officer summoning them. The next time their curiosity takes them to that court they will find out beforehand whether there are any juries to be drawn or not.

San Bernardino Men.

Soon after midnight Sunday Officers Moore and Alford, accompanied by Chief Darcy, arrested two men on Upper Main street, together with a pile of baggage and brought the whole business to the police station. The men were at once hustled into cells and locked up, while the plunder was stowed away in the office of the Chief. At 12:30 yesterday the men were booked as Joe Smith and Mike Griffin, and the charge of grand larceny set opposite their names. Later in the afternoon the Sheriff of San Bernardino county and one of his deputies visited Judge Gardiner's court and got out writs of habeas corpus for both the men, and proceeding to the City Prison served them on the Chief of Police, and taking the men, together with the plunder taken by the local officers when the men were arrested, left with their prisoners without telling anybody who the fellows were or what they were wanted for. It is, of course, more than likely that the proper reasons for issuing the writs were shown to Judge Gardiner, but there is nothing to show that the Sheriff and his man had any more right to take the prisoners from the local officers, than the Chief of Police had to detain them without giving them the privilege of a speedy examination on the charge under which they were arrested. The Chief of Police pretends to know nothing more about the case than the records show.

An Unknown.

Yesterday morning an unknown man, who gave his name afterward as G. W. Hinton, who either did not know or would not tell his name, was found wandering around the police headquarters in search of Justice Austin. When asked his business, he stated that he desired to get some advice from the Justice relating to the cruelty he was exposed to where he slept every night. Justice Austin put a number of questions to him, and soon discovered that the poor fellow was crazy and did not know what he was talking about. He said that he had been sleeping in a barn at Mr. Woodhead's place, but that recently some person, who he described as his "persecutor," had made the place where he slept so damp that it was unhealthy to sleep there any longer. He said he had been in this country some time, but was from England originally, where he had been a minister of the gospel. Justice Austin then sent him over to the Superior Court, where he will be examined by a commission of lunacy.

A Jail-Breaker.

John Connors, a very hard-looking citizen, was taken before Justice Austin yesterday afternoon, charged with having escaped from jail. It appears that Connors was arrested on March 3d last, on a charge of disturbing the peace, and at his trial was sentenced to ten days in the City Prison. While working in the chain-gang on the 4th of the same month he managed to make his escape, and was not recaptured until September 20th, when, having been arrested on another charge, he was recognized as the man who escaped in March. He was sentenced to thirty days for the misdemeanor for which he had been arrested, and, his time being up yesterday, he was at once rearrested on the charge of breaking jail, and, being found guilty, will be again sentenced this morning at 9 o'clock.

THE crooked Trombone gang have been caught in the act of pilfering telegraphic news (which is money in another form) with as much neatness and more dispatch than the whisky conspirators were caught in Chicago a few years ago. But will the chief of the predatory band turn State's evidence and peach on his pals? Eastman, stand up and answer!

A CONTRUMPERY'S weak device for bribing and buying up a lot of poor little newsboys last Sunday, trying to induce them not to sell THE TIMES, did not work. It was a very small, a very contemptible, and an altogether futile trick. The average newsboy may be small in stature, few in years, and poor as to purse, but he is too much for the smooth tactics of the Trombone.

MITKIEWICZ, the man who has been figuring as the frontispiece of a supposed-to-be American-Chinese syndicate, pans out to be a many-sided sort of a fellow. He is accused of having used in China, without permission, the names of Vanderbilt, Gould and Mackay, and he is now credited with having some London bankers on a string. Mitkiewicz is what the Scotch would term mucklewits.

THE Shakespeare memorial fountain presented by George W. Childs of Philadelphia to the town of Stratford-upon-Avon, was dedicated with imposing ceremonies yesterday. Now, where was Donnelly—Ignatius Donnelly? He should have seen to it that that dedication was deferred until the case of Shakespeare vs. Bacon was decided. Should Donnelly's cipher pan out all right there will have to be a rededication in favor of Bacon.

Our Progress and the Envy It Engenders.

The wonderful progress of Southern California—its unparalleled growth in wealth and population, has now attracted the eyes of the world. And having attracted the eyes of the world we very naturally commence to encounter the croakings of the pessimists and the jealousies of other less favored localities. This is particularly true of localities from which we are daily receiving a constantly increasing stream of capital, borne hither by the diurnal tide of immigration brought to us by every train and every steamer.

Envy is peculiarly human; therefore it is no matter of wonderment to know that the beauty and progress of our lovely southern land has at last caused envy to rear the horns of jealousy and loose the tongue of the liar.

The glory and solidity of our progress at first waked the wonder and challenged the admiration of our brothers north. The fossils of the N. C.B shook off, for the nonce, their lethargic dreams of the fall of '49 and the spring of '50, and attempted to imitate the march of progress that they saw rapidly transforming Southern California into a grand and distinctive commonwealth.

But the attempt of the N.C.B. lacked originality; it was only an imitation, and like all imitations, it staggered, halted and failed. Over the slough of failure crept the green slime of envy. The putrid pool nourished the rank growth of jealousy, and from this source we first began to encounter the "innocuous desuetude" of the inharmonious lyre.

Since we drew but little, by way of capital or immigration, from Central and Northern California, the spirit of jealousy and the disposition to falsify, displayed by the soured fossils of the N. C. B., is wholly inexcusable. It was and is nothing more nor less than pig-gish covetousness, and can in no wise be placed on grounds upon which the same spirit and action may possibly be placed by localities east of the Sierras which we have been and are still draining of men, women, energy and capital.

It would be counting on something more, or something less, than human nature, to expect the powers and press of certain localities to witness unmoved the tremendous drain Southern California has made and is still making upon the vital resources of these several sections. Therefore such onslaughts as recently appeared in the New York Helald is something that, from the very nature of the case, may be expected.

That we have crossed the Rubicon of the N. C. B.'s impotent vaporings, and stirred the bile of such powerful folk as the New York Herald, the Minneapolis Tribune, and other eastern and mid-continent powers, simply proves that Southern California has reached a degree of self-sustaining prosperity that is beginning to be regarded by the before-mentioned certain powers as permanent, aggressive, and, therefore, dangerous.

J. M. Bartlett, a frost-bitten croaker of wind-blown Minnesota, has scrawled a croak, and has had it published in the columns of the Minneapolis Tribune.

Mr. B. is evidently disturbed—deeply disturbed—to say nothing of being disgruntled, over the fact that, in addition to the thousands who have already abandoned the land of the "beautiful snow" and the rollicking tornado for the vine-clad slopes and the sunny vales of Southern California, thousands are now preparing to follow. Mr. B. wants the Tribune—the Minneapolis Tribune—to enlighten the Minnesotans on the subject of progress in Southern California. And the method, manner and matter of his request designates the character of information which he requires. Says Mr. B.:

"There is no question of more vital importance to the thousands of our citizens who contemplate going there soon, for the benefit of their health and to wrestle with the realty speculation, and thousands more who are collecting in money to send by friends for investment. Every reasonable indication points to the most reckless disaster in the near future there that ever disgraced a real-estate scramble."

No man honestly seeking information will furnish, in his request, the material of which he desires the required information to be constructed. And yet this is exactly what the Minneapolis croaker has done.

He informs the people, through the request for information which he publishes in the Minneapolis Tribune, that "great disaster" is to take place here; that "but one man out of every 100 comes here to stay;" that "the real estate craze in California is on the point of collapsing," and so on.

Now the truth is, Mr. Bartlett of Minneapolis, Minn., knows nothing of the pan-rock facts relative to the march of progress, ycleept "the boom," in Southern California. It is self-evident that Mr. Bartlett is simply and only one of those persons who view with alarm the exodus of men and money from their several localities; and if that exodus was headed for the Garden of Eden, with the serpent crushed and Adam and Eve resurrected and reinstated, the same shafts would be leveled at the country round about the banks of the Euphrates that are now being leveled at Southern California. In all probability old man Adam would be denounced as a boomer, and the naturalness of the old lady's costume would serve as the basis of moral homilies dripped from the pens of mouthers, whose morals were as sheepy as their veracity.

An able and well-informed liar is at least worthy of contempt; but he who lies at random is beneath it. Had our traducers made themselves more familiar with the subject which they handle so recklessly, they might have been induced to halt in their mendacious tirade, or at least to so construct the meshes of their falsehood as to better mask the sordidness that prompts it.

The Minneapolis croaker avers that—but one man in every one hundred comes here to stay; that the bottom of things is about to fall out, and the people generally are making ready to "stand from under"—to light out, to hie them back to the chilblains and blizzards of Kansas, Iowa and Minnesota. What are the facts? Let us see. In 1880 the city of Los Angeles contained a population of 11,000. It now contains a population of 60,000; and the assessed valuation of property has increased in equal proportion. Last year's assessment for the county of Los Angeles was $38,000,000. This year it is $88,000,000. In this city there are more buildings, and in the aggregate better ones, now in course of erection than is the case in any other city of equal population in America. The county now contains four incorporated cities, and our railroad facilities are such as very few centers of population enjoy.

Augustus found Rome a city of brick, and left it one of marble. The men whom the Minnesota man avers are getting ready to "stand from under" found a pueblo of adobe, and they have made it a city of wood, granite and brick.

We have every evidence of assured and permanent prosperity. Magnificent buildings, streets of rolled asphaltum and granite blocks, electric light, cable, electric and horse railways running in every direction; all the appliances of business, education, comfort, elegance and leisure. And all this we have because of the inexhaustible wealth of our surrounding country—a country so rich in soil, climate and water, the three prime essentials of agricultural wealth, that ten acres will support a family in better form than will fifty in the major portion of the country beyond the Sierras.

Man of Minnesota, go to! Thou art an Ananias of a depraved and irreclaimable type.

IT may have been cruelty to animals, but it had to be practiced. The "requirements of the service" demanded heroic treatment, and THE TIMES had the nerve to apply that sort of treatment—remorselessly. Our pompous, popeyed and predatory contrumpery, the Trombone, had long been in the habit of filching telegraphic news from this paper, and the thing had become monotonous, very. Wherefore we resorted to strategy for the purpose of catching the—appropriator. And we caught him—caught him in the act flagrante. A bogus dispatch did the business. The style of the trap and the manner of the catch are described in another place.

—Advice to the Trombone: Be smooth, according to instructions, but don't be too coffer-dam smooth.

AN army of starving Englishmen flaunting the black flag in the streets of London while Queen Victoria and her royal brood draw $3,000,000 per annum, is one of the relics of old-time feudalism that stands out like a wart on the nose of the nineteenth century.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—A large and fashionable audience greeted Frank Mayo and his company last night to see one of the strongest dramas ever written. From curtain to curtain it abounds in thrilling scenes and dramatic situations, and, while it is "stagey" in that each act ends in a set tableau, and there is a good deal of old-school "rant," those faults are so insignificant in comparison to the strength and beauty of the motive and plot that they are hardly worthy of notice. As "Waldemar Nordeck," Frank Mayo gives a delightful portrayal of innate strength and latent force downtrodden by race prejudice, and finally, when the instincts of his own race refuse longer to be stifled, and he defies even his mother's commands in obeying them, the scene is tremendously strong. In all the phases of his part he is strong and full of force, and in his love-making tenderness itself. J. H. Taylor, as "Witold," was natural and clever, although one's throat ached a little at times when the old man was so vehement in his denunciations of the Poles. C. Harvey, as "Fabian," the tutor, gave a good, even piece of acting, and the rest of the male cast was most acceptable. Miss Alice Fischer has a physique that helps her carry well the dignity of Waldemar's mother, and her dialogue and action were particularly good, while Miss Helen Rand, excepting an uncomfortable affectation in her elocution which makes her at times almost unintelligible, was charming as the "Countess Wanda." Miss Fannie Graham made a naive "Margaret." The mounting was good, and the costuming most appropriate. All in all Nordeck is a very strong play in the hands of an able and appreciative company, and will always prove a drawing card.

The play to be given this evening, by the same company, is the Royal Guards, a new version of Dumas' Three Guardsmen, and quite a different one from that given a few weeks since by the Edwin Thorne Company, in that the melodramatic element is omitted and the incongruities and sacrifice of consistency to dramatic situations, which in the old version were its greatest drawbacks, have been by Mr. Mayo and John J. Wilson so revised that as it now stands all the essentials of the story, the atmosphere of chivalry and romance the world knows in the celebrated novel, stand fresh and distinct before the most critical audience. Not a point of dramatic interest is lost. On the contrary, the action is intensified, and the result is a very strong, romantic drama of the highest excellence in all its points. Mr. Mayo plays "D'Artagnan," that engaging and fascinating scapegrace, whose cool insouciance and humorous dare-devilry win the love and respect alike of the weak and strong, and his artistic and intelligent handling of the part has helped place him where he now stands, at the head of the romantic actors of the day.

Ministers Pass Resolutions on Jury-Bribing.

The Work of Getting a Jury in the Morrow Case.

Grain Gamblers Still Trying to Make the Market Boom.

The Local Democracy Working Hard to Have the National Convention Held in San Francisco—Mrs. Von Sentenced—Notes from the Bay.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—[Special.] At the regular weekly meeting of the Methodist Ministers' Union of this city today resolutions were adopted pledging the sympathy and support of the meeting to Foreman Menzies and other members of the Grand Jury in their efforts to investigate charges of bribery and corruption both of juries and of judicial officers of the city and county of San Francisco, and to bring to punishment any who may be guilty of such practices. W.

MORROW'S TRIAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—[By the Associated Press.] The work of selecting a jury in the case of R. F. Morrow, charged with jury-bribing, was resumed before Judge Sullivan this morning. Counsel for the prisoner made a motion to have him released from custody, which the Court denied.

EMERSON'S CASE.

The sentence of J. W. Emerson, self-confessed jury-briber, was postponed for one week this morning.

GAMBLING IN GRAIN.

A Boom in Barley—The Wheat Market Demoralized.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—[Special.] The price of barley has been manipulated upward within the past few days until it is now quoted at 80 cents in a market where a reasonable figure would be from 60 cents to 65 cents per cental. There is enough today in the State at present to supply the demand for the next two years. Early rains will bring in from many sections a second crop, which will not be much less than the one already harvested. There is no demand abroad, and it is too late in the season to look for any from England. Eastern people cannot trade in this market, owing to the high prices which prevail under the present rate of freights.

THE WHEAT MARKET DEMORALIZED.

The wheat market is in as bad condition, and one which precludes the possibility of any relief for the time being. Shipments are impossible, as the great difference in price would entail a serious loss to shippers. Buyer season is at least $6 per ton and spot wheat $2 per ton higher here than in any other market of the world. Conservative dealers recognize the fact that a decline to legitimate values is imminent, despite the attempts of several bulls to keep up the inflated prices. W.

NOTES FROM THE BAY.

Yearning for the Democracy—Steamer Fares Cut—Etc.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—[By the Associated Press.] Members of the committee organized here with William D. English as chairman express themselves as confident that sufficient inducements could be offered to the National Democratic Committee to induce them to select this city as the place for the next National Convention. The committeemen expect to be able to erect a wigwam especially for the purpose, if the convention takes place here, but if that is impossible the Mechanics' Pavilion would be used. It is stated that several men of wealth stand ready to subscribe liberally to carry out the project.

TO GUARD THE FISHERIES.

The United States steamer, Thetis, arrived from New York today. She made the trip in 155 days, and after refitting, will be detailed to guard Alaskan sealing interests next season.

The Thetis was the flagship of the Greely relief expedition, under Commander Schley, U.S.N., having been purchased from her Scotch owners for that duty. She is a bark-rigged vessel of about 600 tons register, built of oak and sheathed with iron-wood for ice work. Lieut.-Commander W. H. Emory, the Thetis's commander, is well known as the rescuer of Greely in the Bear.

A BIGAMOUS SAN DIEGAN.

A suit brought in the Superior Court by Rosa Mack against John Mack, and also against John and Lena Mack conjointly, occasions much interest here in a certain circle of people. According to Mrs. Mack's story, and from copies of letters received here, it would seem that Mack, who lives in San Diego, has been guilty of bigamy, as he has another wife living in New York.

VESSELS FROM ALASKA.

The schooner Matthew Turner arrived today sixteen days from Ounalaska in ballast, and the schooner Kodiak arrived after a run of eleven days from Kodiak Island with 2500 cases and fifty barrels of salmon. Both vessels are under charter to the Alaska Commercial Company. There is yet another of the Alaska fleet out, and she is daily expected.

AN OLD SUIT DECIDED.

United States Circuit Judge Sawyer this morning rendered a decision for the defendants in the case of Rene De Tocqueville vs. Bartlett Doe and others, an action commenced several years ago to recover a large tract of land near the mouth of Mission Bay, this city, and $100,000 damages for detention of the same.

CRUSHED BY AN ELEVATOR.

George G. Moses, the 19-year-old son of A. J. Moses, clerk for Ira G. Holtt, Superintendent of State Instruction, at Sacramento, died this afternoon from injuries received this morning. He was crushed in a sidewalk elevator by being caught between it and the sidewalk.

THE BEET SUGAR COMPANY.

Among the companies incorporated today was the Western Beet Sugar Company, with a fully subscribed captal stock of $500,000, and the following directors: E. B. Pond, James B. Stetson, Louis Sloss, M. P. Jones, John D. Koster, Meyer Ehrman and Claus Spreckels.

STEAMER FARES CUT.

The only event of importance in railroad passenger circles today was that of the cut in the Los Angeles rate of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, from $15 to $12.50, which includes meals and stateroom.

EX-PREMIER GIBSON VERY ILL.

Walter Murray Gibson, ex-Premier of the Hawaiian Kingdom, is seriously ill at St. Mary's Hospital in this city. A tumor was removed from his face recently.

MRS. VON'S SENTENCE.

Judge Toohey this morning sentenced Mrs. Mary Von, who was recently convicted of the murder of George Wesley Bishop, to life imprisonment in San Quentin.

DEATH OF COL. GANNON.

CLAIMING THE EARTH.

Suit to Recover the Townsite of Marysville.

MARYSVILLE, Oct. 17.—[By the Associated Press.] C. J. Coviland, representing four other heirs to what he alleges is his father's estate, today filed sixty-five complaints in the Superior Court against owners of property in this city and of land north of here. The claim sets up that his father at one time owned, with four others, the entire ground on which Marysville now stands. The suits brought today are against the owners of some of the richest land in the county, and also of other valuable property. He also has designs on valuable city property next to the County Hospital, erected last year at a cost of $40,000. It is claimed that the total amount of damages and rents since December 5, 1882, with the costs thus far, is over $600,000. The case wherein Frank M. Coviland is plaintiff and James Strain's heirs are defendants is now being heard by Judge Keiser. It involves the title to 100 acres of land on which the Reform School stood, which deceased Coviland deeded according to act of the Legislature to the city of Marysville in 1852.

CLEVELAND'S TRAVELS.

The President Among the Historic Scenes of Southern Battlefields—An Enthusiastic Welcome Everywhere.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NASHVILLE (Tenn.), Oct. 17.—[By the Associated Press.] The streets of the city are crowded as they never were before and are decorated in the richest manner. Banners nominating the guest of the day for a second term are to be seen everywhere. The guests were placed in carriages and driven to the Fair Grounds, where members of the committee and others of the reception were presented to the President.

At 8:45 the procession formed and marched to the city and the procession made its way to the capitol, where, upon a stand erected for the purpose, the necessary formalities took place. Gov. Taylor's speech was an eloquent expression of hospitality.

The President responded and spoke in flattering terms of the beauty of Nashville's location, the fertility of the surrounding country and the great wealth of mineral resources in the immediate neighborhood, which assured to Nashville great material prosperity.

SNOBBERY REBUKED.

During the reception today, while many poorly-dressed people, evidently farmers and working men and women were passing before him, Mr. Cleveland administered a stinging rebuke to a number of well-dressed people who, having been presented, stepped back of him and were making unkind remarks, touching the personal appearance of those passing along in front. Hearing the remarks and laughter, the President said: "These good people are here out of respect to me. I am not willing for you to make sport of them. It is not right." The laughter and comments ceased.

The presidential party pulled out of the depot at noon to-day for Chattanooga amid the shouts of thousands and waving of handkerchiefs.

THE VISIT TO CHATTANOOGA.

CHATTANOOGA, Oct. 17.—The President's train left Nashville on time at noon. After the train started many persons followed it as long as they could by running. Mrs. Cleveland's car was half filled with bouquets and other presents. At Murfreesboro points of interest on the battlefield were pointed out. The climb up the Raccoon range and the descent on the south side with the stretch along the Tennessee River were full of picturesque and romantic views. The rainstorm which the train had been chasing ever since it left Washington was at last overtaken before reaching Chattanooga. As the train pulled into the Chattanooga depot it was greeted by a crowd that filled the depot and streets to overflowing. The President and party were met by a reception committee and escorted to the carriage in waiting. All along the line of march the streets were profusely decorated, and notwithstanding the rain the line was followed with the exception of a visit to the historic heights of Cameron Hill, from which the Federal forces during the late war shelled the army on Lookout Mountain.

The President was greeted everywhere with the greatest enthusiasm, crowds of men and women pressing forward in the rain to shake hands. To all he could, he graciously held out his hand, receiving many "God bless yous." The party returned to the depot at a quarter past 5. There the throngs pressed forward to the platform of the car to shake hands with the President until the train moved off.

The President and Mrs. Cleveland were the recipients of several beautiful souvenirs, among them being a handsome album, containing historic views, and having on the back a large chip from a pine tree, taken from the Chickamauga battlefield, in which was lodged a large piece of a Federal shell. The President was also presented with a hickory walking cane cut from the battlefield of Lookout Mountain by an old rebel soldier.

SOMEWHAT MIXED UP.

ATLANTA (Ga.), Oct. 17.—Gov. Taylor and staff came from Nashville to Chattanooga on a pilot train, to assist in doing the honors, and had prepared a little procession of their own, which was to go to the courthouse and be in readiness to receive the President on his arrival. The two processions got mixed up in the darkness, and for some reason not explained to the excursionists, the Presidential procession returned to the station without having been to the courthouse, where thousands of people were meeting. At Big Shanty Senator Brown boarded the President's car for a moment to pay his respects, and a little later Mr. Colyer, president of the Atlanta Exposition. Mr. Grady, vice-president, and Judge Tomkins, one of the directors, entered the President's car and made known to him some changes in the programme.

ARRIVAL AT ATLANTA.

The approach to Atlanta was signaled by the firing of cannon, rockets, red lights, and by other demonstrations. The train arrived at the depot about 11:30 o'clock amid the most enthusiastic demonstrations of welcome. The party was driven to the Kimball House and retired for the night. The jam of people was tremendous.

Chico's Chinatown Burned.

CHICO, Oct. 17.—The new Chinatown, owned by C. M. White, was burned this evening. Thirty-five houses were totally destroyed. The total value of the houses was $8850. The loss to Chinamen is estimated at $10,000, with no insurance. Owing to a north wind blowing the fire could not be checked.

Confessed His Crime.

PLACERVILLE, Oct. 17.—A deputy sheriff arrived in town this afternoon from Auburn, having in charge George Sterling, the amateur stage-robber, charged with holding up the Auburn stage near Cave Valley on Saturday afternoon last. He has confessed the act.

The Crew Saved.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—The British ship Nagpore, on the way from Santa Rosalia from Shields, was abandoned at sea recently. She took fire, and the crew barely escaped with their lives. They landed in safety at Pernambuco.

Col. Sheehan Promoted.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 17.—Gov. Waterman today commissioned Col. F. W. Sheehan as Brigadier-General of the Fourth Brigade, National Guard, vice John T. Cary.

Another Building Collapses in New York.

A Priest and Many Workmen Buried in the Ruins.

Beginning of the Great Suit to End the Mormon Church.

Utah's Governor Reports that the Territory Is Not Yet Fit to Become a State—Gen. Ben Butler Willing to Defend the Chicago Anarchists.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—[By the Associated Press.] At 2:30 this afternoon the walls of the four-story brick Parochial schoolhouse in course of erection for the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, fell in, burying twenty-one men who were in the building. Four men are known to have been killed and many injured, among the latter being Father Kerner, who was superintending the work on the building. The police and firemen are now searching the ruins for the bodies of victims.

The casualty was due to defective work, hastily and ignorantly done. The foundation was laid scarcely two months ago. The side and rear walls were up above the third story, while the front had hardly been started. Father Kerner had been repeatedly warned that he was going too fast with the construction.

Those killed outright were: John Durken, Henry Rientiz, Jerome Laurat, Paul Gilbert and an unknown workman.

A FAILURE.

The International Encampment at Chicago Collapses.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—[By the Associated Press.] The great International Encampment was placed in the hands of a receiver this morning. Gen. Beatty and other managers of the affair united in a petition to Judge Garrett this morning that a receiver be appointed, and the Court granted their petition and appointed A. H. Chetlaine receiver.

The causes that led up to the collapse of the International Encampment are numerous. The weather during the greater part of the encampment was atrocious, keeping the attendance down to a very unremunerative minimum. The managers say that the prize money will be paid. The camp will probably be closed about Thursday, the time originally fixed.

GOV. ZULICK'S REPORT.

Arizona's Prosperity—Progress Hindered by the Apaches.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—[By the Associated Press.] C. Meyer Zulick, Governor of Arizona, in his annual report estimates the population of the Territory at 90,000, an increase of nearly 50,000 over the census estimate of 1880. The aggregate assessed valuation of taxable property for the present year is over $26,000,000, an increase of nearly $6,000,000 over 1886.

By reduced expenditures, increased taxable values, and gradual lessening of the tax rate, the Territory is now absolutely on a safe and healthful financial basis. The agricultural possibilities of Arizona with proper immigration, continues the report, can scarcely be overestimated. Its live-stock interests are in a flourishing condition. Taken in the aggregate the mining interests of Arizona are on a safe and paying basis. The Governor recommends that the sixteenth and twenty-sixth sections of school land in every township be sold and the proceeds be applied to the school purposes of the Territory.

As to the Indians, the report states that of all the tribes in the Territory, the Navajos are the most prosperous, intelligent and enterprising, and doubtless the healthiest tribe in the United States. They number about 15,000 souls and are increasing. It is estimated that they own 20,000 horses and 1,000,000 sheep. They farm quite extensively and raise good crops. The Apaches occupy the San Carlos reservation, containing about 2,528,000 acres of the best agricultural land in the Territory. As a race, the report says, they are lazy and thievish and murderous, seemingly incapable of civilization. As long as Apache Indians are suffered to remain within the borders of the Territory, continues the Governor, just so long will the peace of Arizona be insecure and her progress be retarded.

UTAH.

Report of the Territorial Governor—The Mormon Question.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—[By the Associated Press.] The annual report of Caleb W. West, Governor of Utah Territory, estimates the population of the Territory at nearly 200,000, and the assessed taxable valuation of property at over $35,000,000. The commerce of the Territory is said to be in a prosperous condition. Its agricultural products are abundant, and of excellent grade. Its stock interests are flourishing, and its mining outlook is very promising. Referring to the question of the admission of Utah, the Governor thinks Congress should wait until the actions of the Mormon people are in accordance with the moral sense of the country and Christian civilization, and the Territory is placed in the advanced position it would have attained but for the past attitude of those who are now asking the boon of Statehood. With regard to the position of Utah as a political factor in national affairs, the Governor says that neither of the great political parties, Democratic or Republican, so far as the past history of this people is concerned, can lay claim with any degree of certainty to their support.

SALT LAKE, Oct. 17.—Ex-Senator McDonald of Indiana, and Col. Broadhead of St. Louis, are here in the Mormon interest as attorneys in the suit brought by the United States Attorney General under the Edmunds-Tucker law of March 3d last, to disincorporate the church and Perpetual Emigration Society, and appoint a receiver to take charge of the property in excess of $50,000 limited, allowed by the law of 1862. On McDonald's motion, when the case was called today, a postponement was had till tomorrow and he filed a new demurrer in place of the one already in. The cases are brought in the Territorial Supreme Court. The demurrer denies the constitutionality of the law under which the suits are brought.

Trouble Among the Knights.

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.), Oct. 17.—The third week of the convention of Knights of Labor General Assembly opened this morning with the end still out of sight. The session was devoted to the old subject of reorganizing the general executive board, and the debate was red-hot, as usual.

The trouble over the inharmonious Executive Board of the Knights of Labor was settled, at least temporarily, this afternoon by vote of the Assembly, leaving the officers as they are. It is pretty well understood, however, that this was coupled with a demand for the resignation of Barry and Bailey.

BOGGS'S BLUNDER.

How He Acted as Prison Manager Without Legal Rights.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 17.—[By the Associated Press.] At a meeting of the State Board of Prison Directors and Board of Examiners to discuss the question of the new jute mill at San Quentin Prison today the Governor called attention to the fact that Senator Boggs of Colusa, while acting as president of the board, was really not a member thereof. Boggs was appointed in January, 1883, but did not qualify until June, 1884.

Boggs says he was willing to have his successor appointed. The Governor tendered the position to William T. Coleman of San Francisco. Boggs should have qualified within ten days after appointment.

DETROIT STILL WINS.

The Seventh Game for the World's Championship Taken by the Wolverines—Summary of Yesterday's Races.

By Telegraph to The Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—[By the Associated Press.] The world's championship game played here today was very much like the machine order until the ninth inning, when with two men out Baldwin muffed O'Neill's foul fly. O'Neill evinced his gratitude by lining the second ball pitched over the center-field fence, thereby averting a shut-out for St. Louis. The fielding of both teams was sharp and brilliant. The spectators, numbering between 7000 and 8000, seemed to be partial to the Browns and cheered them whenever opportunity offered. The St. Louis men did some daring base running in the first two innings, but Bennett had nailed a couple of them by hugging their bases rather closely. Score: St. Louis, 1; Detroit, 3.

The Shakespeare Memorial Dedicated.

Poem by Oliver Wendell Holmes in Honor of the Event.

China and Corea Preparing for Stormy Times.

Trouble in the Japanese Cabinet—Great Fire at Hankow—More About Count Mitkiewicz's Scheme—Unemployed Workmen Rioting in London.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The Shakespeare Memorial Fountain, presented by George W. Childs, of Philadelphia, to the town of Stratford-upon-Avon, was dedicated with imposing ceremonies today.

Mr. Irving concluded his address by presenting the memorial in the name of the donor to the town.

The Mayor read a letter from James Russell Lowell eulogizing Childs for his gift, which recalled the fact of the kindred blood of the great nations which are joint heirs to the work of Shakespeare's genius.

"Hail Columbia" was sung and cheers were given for the Queen and President Cleveland.

Luncheon at the Town Hall followed the ceremonies. The day was observed as a holiday and the whole town was en fete. The procession from the Town Hall to the fountain was led by the municipal authorities.

POEM.

BY OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES,

For the dedication of the fountain at Stratford-on-Avon, presented by George W. Childs of Philadelphia.

Welcome, thrice welcome is thy silvery gloam,
Thou long imprisoned stream!
Welcome the tinkle of thy crystal beads
As pleshing raindrops to the flowery meads,
As summer's breath to Avon's whispering reeds!
From rock-walled channels, drowned in rayless night,
Leap forth to life and light;
Wake from the darkness of thy troubled dream,
And greet with answering smile the morning's beam!

No purer lymph the white-limbed Naiad knows
Than from thy chalice flows;
Not the bright spring of Afric's sunny shores,
Starry with spangles washed from golden ores,
Nor ginsy stream Blandusia's fountain pours,
Nor wave translucent where Sabrina fair
Braids her loose-flowing hair,
Nor the swift current, stainless as it rose
Where chill Arveiron steals from Alpine snows,
Here shall the traveler stay his weary feet
To seek thy calm retreat;
Here at high noon the brown-armed reaper rest;
Here, where the shadows, lengthening from the West,
Call the mute songbird to his leafy nest,
Matron and maid shall chat the cares away
That brooded o'er the day,
While flocking round them troops of children meet,
And all the arches ring with laughter sweet.

Here shall the steed, his patient life who spends
In toil that never ends,
Hot from his thirsty tramp o'er hill and plain,
Plunge his red nostrils, while the torturing rein
Drops in loose loops beside his floating mane;
Nor the poor brute that shares his master's lot—
Find his small needs forgot—
Truest of humble, long-enduring friends,
Whose presence cheers, whose guardian care defends!

Here lark and thrush and nightingale shall sip,
And skimming swallows dip,
And strange shy wanderers fold their lustrous plumes
Fragrant from bowers that lent their sweet perfumes
Where Pæstum's rose or Persia's lilac blooms;
Here from his cloud the eagle stoops to drink
At the full basin's brink,
And whet his beak against its rounded lip,
His glossy feathers glistening as they drip.

Here shall the dreaming poet linger long,
Far from his listening throng—
Nor lute nor lyre his trembling hand shall bring;
Here no frail Muse shall limp her crippled wing,
No faltering minstrel strain his throat to sing!
These hallowed echoes who shall dare to claim
Whose tuneless voice would shame,
Whose jangling chords with jarring notes would wrong
The nymphs that heard the Swan of Avon's song?

What visions greet the pilgrim's raptured eyes!
What ghosts made real rise!
The dead return—they breathe—they live again,
Joined by the host of Fancy's airy train,
Fresh from the springs of Shakespeare's quickening brain!
The stream that slakes the soul's diviner thirst
Here found the sunbeams first;
Rich with his fame, not less shall memory prize
The gracious gift that humbler wants supplies.

O'er the wide waters reached the hand that gave
To all this bounteous wave,
With health and strength and joyous beauty fraught;
Blest be the generous pledge of friendship, brought
From the far home of brothers' love, unbought!
Long may fair Avon's fountain flow, enrolled
With storied shrines of old,
Castalia's spring, Egeria's dewy cave,
And Horeb's rock the God of Israel clave!

Land of our Fathers, ocean makes us two,
But heart to heart is true!
Proud is your towering daughter in the West,
Yet in her burning life-blood reign confest
Her mother's pulses beating in her breast.
This holy fount, whose rills from heaven descend,
Its gracious drops shall lend—
Both foreheads bathed in that baptismal dew,
And love make one the old home and the new!

FROM THE ORIENT.

Trouble Between China and Corea—Great Fire at Hangkow.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—The steamship Rio de Janeiro, which arrived from Hong Kong and Yokohama this morning, brings advices to the effect that a crisis is approaching in the affairs of Corea, over which kingdom the Emperor of China claims sovereignty. Simultaneously with the appointment by the King of Corea of five Ministers Plenipotentiary to represent the Corean Government in European courts, Yuen, China's resident Minister in Saoul, Corea, left the city secretly.

The Japan Mail, commenting on the affair, says: "Yuen's departure has been made the subject of strange stories. One rumor has it that he fled from threatened assassination. Considering the offensively-busy part he is said to have taken in Corea's affairs, there is no difficulty in believing he has many enemies, but it seems much more likely that he has gone to consult Viceroy Li, who is practically monarch of Corea."

The Chinese Times says: "The substantial cause of disagreement between China and Corea is no doubt the recent appointment of ministers to represent the Kingdom at the five European courts. The sending of the legation to Japan alone was not a step which by itself would have excited the alarm of the Chinese Government, but the dispatch of missions to the West is an assertion of dependence which is incompatible with the essential interests of China, and might constitute quite a sufficient reason for the Chinese resident Minister to quit his post, not like an escaping criminal at 3 o'clock in the morning, but in open day and with all due solemnity."

COUNT MITKIEWICZ'S SCHEME.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The Standard's Shanghai correspondent gives further particulars regarding the American banking syndicate. Mitkiewicz, while trying to get a concession, used the name of Vanderbilt, which was mentioned in the agreement signed by Li Hung Chang. Vanderbilt was warned, but not in time to prevent the use of his name. Then Mitkiewicz mentioned the names of Gould and Macksy. On Gould's son denying his father's connection with the syndicate Mitkiewicz engaged the Barker Bros. of London, who, after consulting a large banking firm of London, pronounced the scheme untenable. It transpires, moreover, that whatever railways and other works should be undertaken with money raised in America were to be mortgaged to syndicates.

The Virginia Imbroglio Before the Supreme Court—California Land Cases—Signal Officer Greely's Annual Report.

The case involves the ownership of the homes of about 300 families, and will be decisive of 40 or 50 ejection suits pending in the courts of the above named counties.

SIGNAL OFFICER GREELY'S REPORT.

Gen. Greely, Chief Signal Officer, in his annual report, calls attention to the need of improved methods of signaling in the army, and more general instructions of army men therein. Concerning the weather forecast, he says he has been unable so far to accede to requests to furnish special predictions for cities and town corporations, owing to the short time elapsing between the receipt of telegraphic reports and the sending out of general predictions. He hopes, however, during the ensuing year to make arrangements, which, in addition to providing the Northwest with more accurate warning of cold waves, etc., will furnish the great centers of population with special predictions. The increase in length of hours in the daily indications, has, it is said, naturally resulted in reduced percentage and verification, the diminution amounting to 7 per cent. but it is believed that this may be compensated for by increased skill and practice. The general percentage of successful indications during the year has been: Weather, 74.15; wind, 69.1; temperature, 74.4; general average, 73.9. One thousand five hundred and ten storm signals were ordered, of which 98.5 per cent has been verified. The bureau has in view several improvements, among others stationing an indication officer at St. Paul. That officer would receive reports, on the average, an hour earlier than at Washington, and could send out cold-wave warnings two to five hours earlier than they are now sent.

AZUSA TROUBLES.

The Detectives Again Arrested—A Letter.

The party of eight detectives who were hired by the Covina people to protect their interests in the Azusa ditch war were yesterday arrested upon a complaint charging them with malicious mischief, preferred by the Azusa and Duarte faction in the water fight. The party consisted of eight men, and were under the leadership of A. W. Marsh of Lucas' Detective Agency of this city. They were brought before Justice Taney and released upon bail to appear and answer to the charge this morning at 10 o'clock. This move means only a temporary cessation of hostilities, and interesting developments may be looked for in a few days.

The following letter has been received:

AZUSA, Oct. 16.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] Another chapter has been added to the history of our persecution by the Covina corporation.

The same hirelings who did their dirty work between two days last week, again last night crawled up the cañon at midnight and stole our water.

The water was soon returned to its proper channel by some of our citizens, who, with all the cunning of the conspirators, they had forgotten when they made out the list of those they wished enjoined from interferring with the water.

Riding by the mouth of the tunnel today, the writer saw a small army of brave determined Duarte and Azusa men, some of whose heads were white with years, but who could send a bullet on its fatal errand with as unerring certainty as their sons by their side; all of whom, under ordinary circumstances, are peaceable, law-abiding citizens, but when required will defend their homes with as much courage and heroism as did their forefathers.

A justice-loving public will appreciate the difference between this band of men with right on their side and the paid menials of the rapacious corporation, one of whom I heard assert (as did hundreds of others), on the streets of Azusa today, that he was a "good fellow and a gentleman," in proof of which he said he had spent $15 in the saloon there last night. He was carried to bed as drunk as a fool at 2 o'clock this morning. He challenged any man to a duel who said he did not act the gentleman. He said the company paid him $10 a day, and if we would pay him $30 he would work for us. Thank God, we have men to defend us, and do not need beasts who go prowling around eavesdropping in every store and office trying under one pretext and another to get themselves into the confidence of the people, to find out our plans and purposes for the benefit of their masters. He and they are welcome to all the knowledge we possess. Our methods are open to the sun of heaven. We need no dark lanterns.

FEARLESS.

THOSE BONDS.

Gen. John R. Brierly Gives His Views.

A TIMES reporter yesterday cornered Gen. J. R. Brierly and questioned him concerning the proposed issue by the city of additional bonds to the amount of $150,000.

"I don't see how it can be done," remarked the General. "The city has no power to incur more of an indebtedness than $500,000. This is the legal limit. Our indebtedness is now $450,000. The proposed $150,000 additional would consequently be illegal.

"I would not for a moment think of injuring the credit of the city," remarked the General, "but the opinion I have expressed is concurred in by the best legal talent of Los Angeles. The limitation upon the indebtedness of the city is found in the charter which was adopted before the State Constitution of 1879. The old Constitution made it incumbent upon the Legislature to provide for the organization of cities, and restricted the power of taxation, assessment and money-borrowing. The Constitution of March 3, 1879, transferred the same power to municipal corporations."

"Is not the Act of March 3, 1879, unconstitutional?"

"It appears to me that an act passed before the adoption of the present Constitution, which limits the amount of liability of a corporation, is in conflict with a constitution which reserves the right of regulating the municipal indebtedness to the taxpayers of the city. The declaration upon this subject, as set forth in the Constitution, is very explicit. 'The provisions of all laws which are inconsistent with this Constitution shall cease upon the adoption thereof.'"

"This section," remarked the General, "repealed the limitation upon the amount of debt which the city may incur."

"The Legislature, at its last session, passed an act which authorizes cities, towns or municipal corporations, in this State, to incur indebtedness. This act was approved by the Governor March 15, 1887. This act repeals all other acts or statutes with which it conflicts, and it is the act known as the Charter of the city of Los Angeles has not been repealed, especially in the section which relates to the amount of indebtedness that the city may incur, which amount cannot be above $500,000, we have another illustration of the uncertainty of the law in its interpretation by the masses. Should this interpretation which I gave to the law be accepted by our business men and citizens, the future of our city is beyond the vision of the most sanguine."

The Dead Train-Robbers.

EL PASO (Tex.), Oct. 17.—The two train-robbers killed by the Wells-Fargo express messenger, Smith, have been identified as Jack Smith and Dick Mayer. CATARRH!

THROAT DISEASES, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA,

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

This has been demonstrated in thousands of cases treated by

DR. WILLIAMS,

With his new system of Medicated Inhalations combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, stomach, blood, etc.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract a fresh cold; indeed, he declares that he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another, and oet he is always exceedingly careful; it is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of Catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appears, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovery from the disease, it is somewhat changed in its character and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in reading, speaking or singing, hoarseness at times occurs, a sensation of dryness is felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign substance, as, for instance, a hair, obstructed the throat: there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue, the breath lessens upon a little exertion, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there was not room enough in the chest to breathe; these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this time the progress of the disease may have been slow, and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will "wear off," declare that he has had the catarrh for years, and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts that he will "by-and-by" recover. But this delusion is the grand error which has peopled our cemeteries with consumptive forms, as all forms of catarrh end finally in consumption.

Inhalations are applicable in all diseases of the respiratory organs, but must be prepared for each individual case as they severally require.

By the employment of proper inhalation in the form of medicated vapor (not steam or spray) we are able to produce immediate and direct action upon the diseased surface in the pharynx and nasal passages, for air will find its way into the most remote and intricate cavities, where it is utterly impossible to make fluid applications. By these means every case can be cured.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success.

The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address,

WE NEVER SLEEP!

Moss & Ward,

—AT—

134 N. MAIN STREET,

Therefore it's a chilly day when we get left to offer bargains to investors.

Do you want a choice lot for a home by the sea, which commands one of the finest views of the ocean on both sides, Los Angeles and the mountains for a front view? Every day is a panorama. No fogs. If so, we have some choice lots to offer FOR A FEW DAYS. Size 50x150 to 15 foot alley. Price $100; $50 cash, balance $10 per month, without interest, at our beautiful townsite of MEADOW PARK. We have gone to a great expense and had one of the best artists in California paint a view of

MEADOW PARK

Showing the surroundings and lay of the land, which is as natural as life itself. The above is in our office for your inspection.

INVESTORS, LOOK AT THIS!

We know of no better place for a good investment than our new subdivision of FLORENCE. Why? Because she stands without a peer in her matchless beauty of scenery and climate. The soil is noted far and wide for its productiveness. For a home in the suburbs we know of no better location.

FLORENCE

Is at the junction of the Southern Pacific and Los Angeles and Santa Ana Railroads, less than six miles from the new Los Angeles depot and has no less than eight trains daily, which makes accommodations to and from FLORENCE unsurpassed for a home or business.

We have made the price very low for a starter, so "First come, first served." $225 and upwards; ¼ cash; balance in six and twelve months. Clear, pure, sparkling water piped in front of each lot. To the purchasers building the first ten houses in our tract a discount of one-half the purchase price of the lot will be given.

NEXT! NEXT!

"THE PEER OF ALL"

ALDINE SQUARE

Tracts laid out in Los Angeles, Cal.

ALDINE SQUARE will be a place "Of the people, for the people, by the people." The whole tract of ALDINE SQUARE lies between Alameda street and Santa Fe avenue. Its accommodations for going to and from ALDINE SQUARE are not excelled in Los Angeles.

The facilities for reaching ALDINE SQUARE are unsurpassed. The electric road on Santa Fe avenue, running in front of ALDINE SQUARE, and the Southern Pacific Railroad, with its new and adopted passenger station named Aldine Square Station, located corner Jefferson and Alameda streets (all regular passenger trains will stop), makes rapid transit in reaching the center of the city in a few minutes, while the fare on either line will be only FIVE CENTS—5 cents.

For a home this charming tract, away from the turmoil and bustle of the city, surrounded as it is with its orange and walnut groves, is an elysium of comfort, a veritable Garden of Eden.

—PEERLESS—

ALDINE SQUARE

Because it has no key lots, and every lot has the perpetual right for the use of the PARK, which, with its fountain, gravel walks, lawn tennis courts, drives and arbors, makes it the most desirable place to live.

ALDINE SQUARE

—FOR TEN DAYS—

Lots sold at the very low price of $300 and upwards; ½ cash, balance in six and twelve months, the present schedule price. After the expiration of ten days the price will be advanced 25 per cent.

The surprise of all is that every one so far that has seen ALDINE SQUARE has purchased, which speaks for itself. We will be pleased at any time to show ALDINE SQUARE

PASADENA, (Cal.), Jan. 26, 1887.—This is to certify that I am 47 years of age and have stammered over forty years. I have been under the instruction of some of the ablest instructors with the hope of being cured of my affliction without ever receiving any relief. I am now pleased to state that after four months' instruction under Prof. J. Whitehorn, in Los Angeles, I experience but little of my impediment, and can now talk well. I think he has a perfect method of treatment which will apply to all stammerers, and recommend him as one of the ablest and most successful instructors I have ever met. SMITH JAMES.

—SUBDIVISION OF—

THE OSTRICH FARM!

Los Felis Rancho.

One Hundred Acres Placed on Sale, Divided Into Building Lots 50x150 Feet,

AND A FEW FIVE-ACRE PLOTS.

Such an opportunity is seldom offered. The soil is a rich alluvial deposit twenty feet depth. Drainage perfect, being gentle slope to the river.

All Under Los Angeles Irrigating Ditch.

Well water at any depth from four to thirty feet from surface. This tract lies in the FINEST SCENERY IN LOS ANGELES COUNTY, having the towns of Glendale and Verdugo and the Sierra Madre Mountains in front, and the lovely evergreen Los Felis range of mountains rising 1300 feet from the tract at the rear, with the Los Angeles river running immediately between, making this a PERFECT AMPHITHEATER OF RURAL BEAUTY. The OSTRICH FARM RAILROAD is now running to the tract. Trains run into the city in twenty minutes and as often as necessary. Business men will find this the most convenient place for suburban residences, as the early trains will enable them to be at their places of business sooner than the horse cars from East Los Angeles or Washington Gardens.

The OSTRICH FARM will continue to be the attractive feature of this locality, and the ZOOLOGICAL GARDENS are now being added to and laid out in a style which will make this THE MOST ATTRACTIVE RESORT IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. This tract is three miles nearer Los Angeles than Burbank and two miles from Ivanhoe.

...S' HOME.

...ING MEETS THE CIT-...OF LOS ANGELES.

What a Soldiers' Home ... Be—Housing Speeches—An ... Will Be Made to Locate the ... to or Near Los Angeles.

... thirty representative gentlemen ... the rooms of the Board of Trade last ... for the purpose of hearing Capt. ..., one of the commissioners ap... by the President to select a suitable ... for a Soldiers' Home west of the ... Mountains, and for the purpose of ... views in relation thereto.

... Germain, President of the Board ... Trade, called the meeting to order and in ... few appropriate remarks introduced Capt. ...anding.

The Captain stated that Congress at its last session in March directed that a Soldiers' Home should be erected west of the Rocky Mountains, and appropriated $150,000 for the purpose of maintaining the Home until it meets again in December. At that time another appropriation will be made by Congress for the same purpose. It was considered that $150,000 was sufficient to start, and it will be supported by the National Government. Last year $1,860,000 odd was appropriated for the maintenance of the five Homes in the United States. This will be the sixth Home.

The managers, in pursuance with the act of Congress, have appointed me to make examinations of such points as will seem most advisable for a Soldiers' Home.

There are several requisites. For instance, a good climate, because these men are past middle life, and they are admitted because they are disabled. Some suffer from rheumatism; others have been wounded in the war. All men who have served the Government of the United States in any war, and who have become disabled, provided they have been honorably discharged from service, are admitted.

Since the 31st of July I have been engaged in disseminating all the information that I could, and drawing the attention of the people to the fact that a proper site was wanted for this Home. On the 1st of August I mailed the Mayor of this city, and to every town of any note, inviting proposals for this Home, hoping in that way to incite emulation, so as to bring out the best place possible to get.

The managers have no interest whatever, whether it be Northern California or Southern California. They are coming here without any prejudice in the matter. In reply I have received thirty or forty applications. The managers will arrive here between the 15th and 17th of November, and these propositions will be laid before them. I shall make a perfect report of all sites so that they will be able to judge which is the best to accept. In that way they will be enabled to get a place with the proper requisites, such as climate, location and the proper amount of water. My impression is that they will visit these sites when they arrive here. They will come here to make a stay. They will take into consideration sites which have been offered to them. After that they will go to San Francisco and there examine sites which have been offered to them from that portion of the country; so a determination will be made somewhere between the 15th of November and the 1st of December. That is my impression now. I think before they leave California they will select the site.

I dare say, you have seen some of my interviews in the press, in which I have described the Soldiers' Homes. You have yourselves here pictures which represent these Homes. They are exceedingly beautiful places. They are under military control entirely. Every soldier is under the rules and regulations of war. He becomes, as it were, a retired soldier. As long as he remains in that Home he is subject to the discipline of that Home. He can leave when he pleases. He has the right to go into that Home. It is not a hospital. It is not an almshouse, but it is a Home. The Government has said every man who has been discharged honorably can enter that Home. Some of the men are but slightly disabled, but nevertheless they are disqualified to do the work which men usually do. There is no drilling. There are none of those onerous restrictions which are provided in barracks. He has only to abide by the rules. When the gun sounds the men arise and the barracks are put in complete order for inspection. The men are divided into companies and each barrack is under the control of officers. The men are exceedingly fond of the Home. The greatest thing that the soldier fears is a dismissal from the Home. The system adopted is the demerit system. If a man absents himself from the Home he receives a mark, and when he receives a certain number, after being warned, he is deemed incorrigible and is discharged "without character." They are the best behaved set of men I ever saw. Out of 6000 men in Dayton last year there were upwards of 4700 that during the year had not received one demerit mark. They are clothed in United States uniforms. When a man enters he is allowed only into the quarantine barracks. His military record is returned to Washington. If his record is entirely true as he states he then passes into all the benefits of the Home. He is then provided with cap, overcoat, suit, shoes, etc., and he becomes a full member of the Home, and from that day forward he is subject to the rules and regulations of that Home.

These Homes are esteemed a great advantage to the neighborhood in which they are situated. They have beautiful lawns and are very extensive. They have at Dayton swans on the lakes, greenhouses, billiard rooms, ninepin alleys, a theater, library of 14,000 volumes, all the newspapers come there, all the magazines, etc.

The Government want a considerable tract of land—certainly 300 acres. The Home at Dayton contains 600; the Home at Leavenworth, 600; Milwaukee equally as many; another in Maine I believe more than that. The only one is Hampton, Va., at the mouth of the James River, that is so small a barrack it is a great inconvenience to the managers. There is no building at all which is used for two purposes, such as a hospital, mess building, theater, another place for officers, another place for libraries, etc. One great object being to prevent any great spread of fire in case one should occur. Another advantage of having a large tract of land is to give the men a chance to roam about. Seats are arranged under trees, and there they enjoy themselves.

I have visited a number of places in California. I have visited Monterey and Santa Cruz and various places, and now I have come down to see what you have to offer for a home. I haven't come to beg land. If your city donates land all well and good. If a tract can be found that fills all the requirements, the managers will not stop for an instant as to whether it is to be given away or purchased. To show you how these homes are established in the East, Leavenworth gave a tract worth $50,000, then gave $50,000 payable in ten annual installments of $5000 each, Leaven worth being exceedingly desirous to have a park in her neighborhood. And they were desirous that the park should be put in condition as soon as possible. At Milwaukee they put $95,000 at the disposal of the board. All the other Homes have been bought.

Capt. Blanding also stated that one of the most important requisites was a full supply of good water. The estimate made for the new Home was 100,000 gallons per day. A bill of fare for Christmas last at the Dayton Home was read by Capt. Blanding, and created considerable wonder at the immense amount of provisions necessary to feed the soldiers at that place. The number at that Home is 4000. On the bill of fare it was noted that 1200 mince pies were required to go round; potatoes, 54 bushels; cheese, 300 pounds; celery, 200 dozen; oranges, 450 dozen, and cranberry sauce, 7 barrels. Said the captain: "We want a tract of land that is rolling ground; undulating ground; that is capable of landscape gardening; pleasant outlook, either mountain or sea. We want a place capable of drainage and sewerage; good climate, and above all a place where we have a quantity of water, which is the main feature. This Home is to be on a basis of a capacity for 2000 men."

Capt. Blanding was of the opinion that this new Home would be the sanitarium for the other five Homes, on account of the mildness of California climate.

Several gentlemen present made short addresses expressive of their desire that the Home be established, if not in Los Angeles, near the city, and a hope that at least it be established in Southern California.

The gentlemen who took part in the addresses were Judge Reddick, J. R. Brierly, O. H. Violet, E. Germain, A. Williharlitz, Col. H. G. Otis and others.

A resolution from John A. Logan Post was presented and read, favoring the movement.

Col. Otis moved that a general invitation be extended to owners of land suitable for sites for the proposed Home to send offers in writing, with descriptions of their properties, through the Board of Trade, or to Capt. Blanding direct, for consideration and action, without reference to the general committee appointed for that purpose. The object of the motion, he explained, was not to embarrass, but aid that committee by promoting rivalry and increasing the number of offers. The motion was adopted.

MAIN-STREET CARS.

The Extension of the Main-Street and Park Railway.

The meeting of citizens interested in the extension of the Main-street and Agricultural-Park Street-car Line to the Ballona crossing, which was to have been held in the office of the Los Angeles and California Land Company, No. 4 West First street, yesterday afternoon, had to be postponed on account of the notices sent out by the secretary having not yet reached the persons to whom they were addressed. Still there was a sufficiently large attendance to show that considerable interest was taken in the move, but as those to whom the proposed exsention would be of the greatest importance were not represented, it was considered advisable to postpone the meeting till Wednesday afternoon at the same time and place. Those who have received notices of this meeting are requested to be in attendance at the postponed meeting.

The idea in calling this meeting was to get an expression of opinion from the residents of that part of the city lying between the corner of Jefferson street down Main street to the Ballona crossing, and to devise means of having the extension built at as early a moment as possible. W. Laing Malcomson, who is one of the moving spirits in the enterprise, is of the opinion that the extension should be attended to at once, so as to take advantage of the annual lull in business, which should soon commence. There is no doubt but what that part of the city is destined to be the location of the most beautiful residences in this neighborhood, and an effort is to be made to have the road out from that end of Jefferson street so constructed as to form a boulevard from Main street to San Pedro, which will make one of the finest drives in this part of the State.

There is a rumor that one of the new branches of the large cable system soon to be built will run down Grand avenue to one of the crossings of the Ballona branch, but whether this will cover the ground is not yet known for certain. It is also stated that the Pico-street electric road is to have an extension running out in that direction, but with this as in the case of the cable road, there is nothing definitely established, so the efforts of those interested to secure the extension of the street-car line will still be prosecuted with vigor.

With this line in operation, the company will have but a few hundred yards of track to lay to connect the University with the new Academical College soon to be erected on what is now known as the Hartford tract, so there is no doubt that an earnest effort of the citizens owning property in that neighborhood would be rewarded with success. Even in the event of both the cable road down Grand avenue into Main street, and the electric road down New Main street to San Pedro and Los Angeles streets being built, the residences to be built in that section would be of such a number and character as to enable their owners to give ample patronage to each.

Mr. Malcomson has seen about all the principal people interested in this new enterprise, and is certain that all that is necessary to insure success is concerted action, and is therefore hopeful that the meeting to be held Wednesday afternoon will be of such a nature as to leave the matter no longer in doubt.

A GOOD CATCH.

Richard Springer, the Robe Thief, Is Held for Trial.

Some time toward the latter end of September, L. L. Bradbury had stolen from his residence, between Hill and Olive streets, two fine buggy robes, valued at $100 each. Complaint of the theft was made to the Chief of Police, and an officer was detailed to work up the case, but without avail, for nothing could be heard of the robes. Still a sharp lookout was kept for them by several parties, and one day a junk dealer by the name of Clarke discovered that another man in the same business named Richard Springer had endeavored to dispose of them to a second-hand dealer named Cohen, who has a place of business in Sonoratown.

At the time the robes were stolen, H. H. Yonken and Mrs. Yonken had charge of the Bradbury residence, and Springer, in his capacity of junk dealer, was in the habit of calling at the place at intervals to collect what stuff there might be there in his line. The man Clarke was also in the habit of getting what junk there might be at the house when he called, and in this manner Clarke heard that the robes had been missed and got a description of them. Shortly after Clarke had been informed of this loss, when at Cohen's place disposing of some of his collections of junk, he saw Springer with two robes answering the description of those stolen, trying to get Cohen to buy them from him. Clarke in some manner managed to tell Cohen his suspicions regarding them, and Cohen positively refused to have anything to do with either Springer or his goods.

Clarke then went away about his business and thought no more of the transaction, but was rather of the opinion that he should have detained Springer until he made him give an account of himself. While he was thinking the matter over Springer returned and again tried to persuade Cohen to take the robes at any price. This time Cohen got mad, and, throwing the sack containing the robes out of his store, told Springer to keep himself out of his premises for the future as he desired no further dealings with him. Springer then left and Cohen went at once to the police station and gave information to the Chief of Police and his reasons for thinking the robes Springer had were those stolen from Mr. Bradbury.

Officer Collins then took hold of the case and going to Springer's house found there both the man and the stolen goods and at once brought them to the station, where they were afterward identified by Mr. Yonken. Springer was yesterday morning brought before Justice Austin for his preliminary examination on a charge of grand larceny, and the evidence being sufficiently strong to warrant the action he was held for trial, his bail being fixed at $1000. The robes were returned to the owner on the condition that when the trial should take place in the Superior Court they should be produced as evidence.

AN OBJECT OF INTEREST.

Gas Men Inspecting the New Gas-works.

J. B. Crockett, President of the San Francisco Gaslight Company, and C. O. G. Miller, treasurer, and F. H. Eichbaum, superintendent of the Pacific Gas Improvement Company, San Francisco, were in the city yesterday, inspecting the works of the Consumers' Gaslight, Heat and Power Company. It is understood that they have an eye to adopting the Lowe process for their works in San Francisco.

The members of the Supreme Court yesterday visited the works and wereroom of the new company, and expressed themselves as highly pleased with what they saw. They would like to have their courtroom and chambers in San Francisco heated and lighted with it.

Box Social.

The ladies of Park Congregational Church will give a "box social" at the church this evening. The programme will include vocal and instrumental music, literary exercises, etc. An enjoyable entertainment is promised. Admission free.

Marriage Licenses.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to C. E. Travis and H. Bellah, and S. A. Wolf and E. E. Lee.

Meetings.

Tonight there will be a social given by the Royal Oak Lodge, Sons of St. George, in Good Templars' Hall, 108 North Main street.

Charley Howard, of San José township, this county, was yesterday lodged in jail to commence serving a sentence of twenty-five days for petit larceny.

J. J. Wells and George Freidell were arrested on suspicion last night by Officers Auble and Marden. The men were found acting in a suspicious manner on Alameda street.

A. W. Winton, a real-estate man, was taken to the City Prison at 7 o'clock last evening. He was arrested for being evidently insane on religious subjects, and was removed to the County Jail last night. He was trying to make converts at a salvation meeting.

Officers Bowler, Auble, Marden and Lelash made a raid last night upon two gangs of Chinamen on Main and First streets. The Celestials were arrested for violation of the Laundry ordinance. They produced $5 each and were released to appear before Justice Austin this morning.

E. Germain's store was the scene of a small burglary early Sunday morning. It would have been larger but for the fact that there was but $4 or $5 in the money-drawer, which was entirely cleared of its contents. The thief must have entered through the back door, as there were no signs of entry elsewhere, and the back door was found unfastened by one of the clerks on Sunday morning.

The ancient old chestnut of the "Universal Chemical Eradicator" is again being played upon those who are not acquainted with the scheme. An impecunious young man, who is anxious to raise the wind, procures a gallon or two of benzine, puts about half a gill into a small bottle and sells this with a bright label on it as an effectual remover of all kinds of grease and dirt spots on clothing, etc. As he charges two-bits per bottle, and pays but about 50 cents a gallon for the benzine, it can be readily imagined that the profits are large while the gudgeons bite.

The funeral services of Don Leonardo Cota, a prominent Californian, were held on Sunday afternoon in the presence of a large circle of relatives and friends. His death was almost sudden, but as he had arrived at the age of 70 years, it was not altogether unlooked for. Don Leonardo Cota was one of the old settlers of this neighborhood who in early life held some of the most important positions of trust under both the Mexican and American State Governments, and was universally respected by all with whom he was acquainted.

The Chinaman who stole a set of single harness from Fred Kurrle a week ago, was yesterday tried by Justice Taney and found guilty as charged. After taking away the harness Sam Young, the Chinaman, told the officers who were looking for the thief that a boy had taken it away while he (Sam) was working at Kurrle's. He tried hard to give a description of the boy who did the stealing, but after several attempts gave it up as a bad job, and was finally arrested as the only boy who was able, by having access to the place where the harness was kept, to carry it away. He will be sentenced at 9 o'clock this morning.

LEWIS BROS.,

101 & 103 N. Spring.

Mr. Ed F. Bourne, the efficient and worthy cashier of the United States Express Co., Des Moines, Iowa, says: "From the lack of exercise and from close confinement to office work, I have been troubled with habitual constipation. I have received more benefit from St. Patrick's Pills than anything I ever tried. I gave them a thorough test and am now in perfect health. I hereby recommend them as a pleasant and reliable medicine." They do not gripe nor cause the sickness occasioned by the operation of almost all other cathartic pills or medicines. Sold by C. H. Hance, 77 and 79 North Spring street.

No one is well equipped for a journey without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy. In an emergency its value cannot be estimated. Sold by C. H. Hance, 77 and 79 South Spring street.

A Good One.—Mr. James Marsh, of Atop, Neb., after an experience of four years in using and selling Chamberlain's Pain-Balm, says: "It is the best and most reliable liniment ever produced." A fifty cent bottle of it will accomplish more in the treatment of rheumatism, lame back or severe sprains, than five dollars invested in any other way. A great many cases have been cured by it, after being given up as hopelessly incurable. It promptly relieves the pain in all cases. Sold by C. H. Hance, 77 and 79 North Spring street.
